

Chapter 9

My pit my life

I think they picked me up , can't remember I was not in tukwila but not too far, they live in Covington , so like a hour walk that I did from time to time. About the same time as all of this I met Ann's mom, a very nice Vietnamese lady who I thought would get me a girl overseas. A sister or something, I was all for this plan and getting out of Hunter and Connors place , I had a pull out couch in a half living room. Slowly and mom just kept at it and finally introduced me too Ann or (ahn) in Vietnam you can't name your child a not Vietnamese name. So ann was very quiet, seemed simple and cute with a huge scar on her chest from surgery of some kind, I definitely don't mind the scar and quite and calm are amazing traits after Trista, her mom also told me she has a very clean house so not my ex wife for sure. But I spent time before during and after work getting to know Ann and she said she wanted me to move in. Ann did drink, smoke and weed. But her mom said if we give her a baby to raise in Vietnam we get the house, and if Ann is nice like this than ok deal. At some point hunter stopped working and that meant higher rent, while this blond kid stayed for free with like 12 pets. So on an extremely snowy day and mom picked me up and drove me to live with her. I didn't know that and dad was literally there and had no idea I was moving in, he was enraged basically the whole time everyday for ever or he was extremely drunk and singing karaoke in Vietnamese. I helped him from time to time with anything he asked. Hunter and Connors blame me for the fall of their relationship and housing . It wasn't the most relatable answer to my soiled child support problem. And even if there was an angry man I was child support safe again, at first no rent later 200, I could do that. Leaving this house has destroyed my life. Slowly everything fell apart. I kept working at Macy's with Ann who worked on another floor. Then Ann left to work at save u more a money laundering groceries store. I was on my way to get a promotion from door guard to undercover agent when there was a meeting with the head of all of loss prevention and he has some absolute bull shit to say for 2- 8 hour days , we definitely did not get along , he was trying to use this time to tell us how we are biased and if he can convince us all we are biased that sign a form Macy's has 0 accountability for any of are actions. He asked a lot of questions I had answers he didn't like about how we are supposed to truly care about Macy's and there profits , are Macy's has a high level of none white apprehensions and of course the 1 white guy on the team gets called out at this meeting by some guy from Texas , I don't even make calls.outs, Im a dog in a cage ready to follow orders by are often black, Hispanic, Russian and part Japanese agents. So I put in my 2 weeks because this guy is calling me the racist, I'm far from racist when it comes to theft, I just want to fight. I don't care what color you are. This laps in macys to save u more for Ann was dramatic and extreme, Ann all the sudden had a violence towards the world , extreme violence, slowly every single day was rage, an outburst unrevoked by anyone or other days I'd talk out of turn or her mom would say something in Viet and it was all over tell she finally fell asleep, if I get her to sleep early I can go to work rested if not I guess I'll struggle. This was my life for this chapter, no sleep , rage, madness. So I got a job with Ann, now at work and was a great girlfriend, no rage , she was a cashier and I started as security, one thing I know is a man can never do better than a women or there will be rage or violence maybe both , Trista despised me for my security job where I made 1$ more than her and Ann was the same way for sure. Trista was even my boss for a while completely controlling my schedule. Ann did not get to do that. At this job we had those come and go so if I miss your name I'm so sorry. The Philippines couple□□, Greg □□, Robbie, val, Mike, bigger Mike?, Pierre, kieth, ting, Selina, Nichol, mr.sigh, wolf, Middle Eastern very nice produce guy. Caesar we chat online still, Carrie, Cory, Hawaiian, meth guy. Other meth guy

Now I properly can give you a story for all of them but I'll stick to a good chunk, we are getting to things I actually remember because it's only 6 years ago? Maybe. Security wasn't bad, those who stole saw me start to talk them into the store and they left, I was way too nice to be ignored. Ting was lead cashier, Greg, Robbie and the couple where cooks, val was an owner, Mike was hr and web developer, other Mike was? , Pierre was from France to run the bakery, Selina was a groomer and ran a pet store, but another guy on drugs also worked there for a little while. Nichol was uhaul, me.sigh was a security officer I couldn't train, wolf was inventory stocker delivery. Ceaser was bakery and cook. Carrie ran the deli and was a manager, Cory was uhaul, cashier and security on meth. Keith was a painter and uhaul. Hawaiian was security and cashier but stole money. Meth guy was a stocker and driver and other meth guy was maintenance. But I was the only security for a little while and having nice Ann for a couple hours was great. Some days I got extra to stay after and watch managers count money. Ann noticed there was no camera that could see the doorway between the hallway and the office and clearly I cheated in that 2 foot space within a fraction of a second while Carrie was counting money. So I didn't get that extra hour anymore. The stocker meth guy started not showing up as often so I started to help stock the shelves when I could. This was how it all started, turns out I'm good at this and also helped keep track of inventory so I was now security and stocking so we had Corey start security also. Based on what we know Corey is married on drugs and liked middle school girls. So giving him a fake badge and a gun was nuts. My gun had no bullets, it was a distraction that Corey tried to use against me, he took my gun and said he got me and I threw him to the ground because I got him because he had no bullets. I also had a baton that I only used 1 time to fight a guy who was trying to claim a uhaul as his home and refused to leave after I had already rented it. Wolf was head of delivery and back room operations and we talked often , the idea of just walking to Mexico forever didn't always sound too bad. No crazy stories about wolf he's a great guy who works hard. Or the very nice produce man Zack we just talked a lot about things and no crazy . Mike was hr/web developer/ i.t. and one day I was put in charge of Karaoke, I was to plug in the machine and get people up on stage , Mike had a very hard time trying to play a file and I was stunned that he couldn't find an answer before I finally took over and played the file . We also had a baby sitting , play area thing that I stood next to do not only was I security I was a full time babysitter to foreigners who would frequent this international grocery store. If they just dropped the kid off and left without English skills I have this kid for ? Like all day, this is how I got this autistic Indian kid who called me vessel, we got a long very good most days then others he's touching girls and trying to stab people. Oneday we had to cut him off, but this kid was like 13. I learned how to cook because some days they needed help , I got a long great with Robbie, Greg, the Philippines couple and not so much first he was up to trouble and somehow lived on property while avoiding paying taxes , he also was friends with China and slims, the very rube and outrageous dudes who bombarded are store and I think we're stealing but they where always causing trouble so they were kicked out anyways regularly, but the boss didn't put them on permanent ban. Nicole has her own strange man who would try to touch her also who also was never allowed to be banned forever who would buy , kill and return fish just to creep on her. Soon I learned uhaul to stop this cycle, but I haul has a area supervisor who's like 19 and a know it all punk who I didn't listen to. I never learned dog grooming but I got a copy of Selina's book. As I learned cashier I saw the main issues in the system, ting was basically insane and the front end manager, you can't say you don't ring up black people, but I also would tell people I don't want to sell them alcohol, cigarettes or scratch tickets because they have an obvious addiction and I'd tell them every time to stop coming to better their own life and not to be like my evil ex wife. Only a couple stopped coming around, It Wasn't the toughest area but those who where there came to us for are garbage we sold, then the rest where people who seemed normal or those who think it's social and environmentally acceptable to have children. But I slowly worked my way to front end manager and becoming the #1 pizza chef creating new things for every customer, even if ting said people don't come here for food they come here for Vietnamese tradition, but I doubt the guy who speaks like no English from Somalia cares if he gets a traditional bun mi or the one he requested over Google translate. This was all part of some grand scheme, as far as I could tell we didn't really make any money and the owner used it as a hub to ship to Alaska, while running his bakery out the back, with a restaurant that most of the time was never used. Im told he lost his legs In a skiing accident and used to money to do a form of real estate scam than used to money to open a store in America from the money in Austria. I have no proof of any of that. But I would work there and then go home to get attacked by Ann some days, not everyday.

So I did it all at save u more , mr.singh was a religious guru and people would come to him for guidance ? He kept turning the kids TV to Hindi prayer and claims out loud all black people steal, he claimed his job was a social service of some kind to help build the store into a Hindu future. Then COVID happened and things got crazy , nothing on shelves and some days no customers at all. But I would clean the money , force people to wear masks and fight with ting everyday while sick people just were handing out. I don't think COVID matters , the % of deaths was not good enough. But everyone slowly got let go I wasn't the first but turns out because of my ex wife I don't get unemployment or a COVID check ever. So I applied to jobs and started writing the game idea I had when I first got divorced into a book, I had over 100 illustrations and my chapters where flowing then Ann rage claimed I was using the laptop to cheat on her and it was gone forever and I lost some data and stopped writing but just in time to get a job at pest control called aptive, this was a Norman ran lie to help Mormon kids get fat checks going door to door collecting commission while the tech (me) was standing there explaining how we don't kill foxes, chipmunks, insects in the yard next door and offer AI auto turrets for there roof because there house is too perfect to be near birds. Imported Microsoft workers are strange and rich for sure with giant houses , Tesla's and completely empty rooms with often a mattress on the floor . Or a backyard man made river to park there yacht in the off season. All kinds of absolutely ridiculous nonsense of the mega rich with them angry at this guy who gets paid 18 an hour for your 75$ a month service you can get 1 time a week for the same price if you ask. But it's a front company with almost fake products, while Washington state doesn't allow more then 40% kill rate so you'll always have a spider and flies aren't killed by spider spray as well as even if you saw a rat 2 weeks ago on your 13th camera outside how on earth do I “go find it” . But my physical ability to literally run , jump and lift made me lead training officer with endless patience and understanding while teaching them , but turns out I'm seasonal lead training officer and me and my coworker sherell who I trained went to eco shield who is currently being sued for having us drive 40 miles from home on are part stop then telling us we don't get paid to drive home in 5 o'clock rush hour, a lot of time was spent in traffic unpaid that we will be getting paid for. This was a joke for sure my trainer was an obese man who slept while I worked, then my training was cut in half and I became training officer again just to soon be told I'm “ghosting” houses or skipping them and marking them as serviced, it's BS go ask the customer who I spoke with if I was there, or ask my trainee who was with me. Sherrel went to orkin and I went to planet fitness. I also had spent 2 years saving up the 5000 $ for the scooter I own now so I could work anywhere.

During this time I found out alot of Ann's rage came from her mom and the drugs she got while near her house so I planned with the little money I had for a hotel weekend getaway, she was just living for free but always had money for cigarettes, beer and drugs so I'm sure she was off with boys making money. But that far off town often has a cheat hotel and time to detox if only for a day. Normally no violence but sometimes she still got crazy, but child support doesn't stop so I can't stop. Collecting dvds was a pass time and the collection was huge. I shipped that whole collection to faith in the Philippines later in life. But Ann was getting more and more violent as she wasn't working just at home hiding in her room. Planet fitness was great other than minimum wage , I could workout and clean everything, I quickly learned to fix all machines and vip area tools. I was Melvin junkco the toxic avenger with my mop of justice while doing my best not to flirt with all the cuties, I did good because I never had sex with anyone but Ann , I actually never cheated this whole time, just waiting out my child support. I don't remember too many peoples names but we all got along except Dean who was 1 below franchise owner. After 1 year no raise, I trained all the new kids, I fixed everything and I was on my way to starting my personal trainer classes when I was told I can have the job but I'll never get a raise. I miss it there if it paid more, I'd still be there. During this time though Ann was too angry for sex a week or 2 at a time and with her 24 hour surveillance at home there was no relief so I definitely got into a bad habit of staring at yum yums. Ann's violence I don't know exactly went it reached its critical level but I needed housing, but soon weapons where added to the almost daily attacks on me and her mom. I wasn't allowed to enjoy the time as a Vietnamese family and soon after 2 years of her dad saying he's moving back to Vietnam because this house is insane he left, just about the same time he came home with a broken face and drunk as can be claiming her fought 3 guys then slapped me a couple times while he told me i'm an idiot for living here and it's better my ex wife make me homeless. I kinda wish he had offered to take me with him to Vietnam because he was also running for the us laws and was going to live off the grid on a farm with his brother, I wasn't allowed to learn Vietnamese but if I had maybe I would be with a cute Vietnamese girl on a farm with actual children? You never know. But he left and everyone blamed me because when and dad had this talk and was in the hospital for self inflicted injuries again, this is where there chest scar comes from , she claimed that she was Jesus and stabbed herself in the chest to prove she's immortal and lived so in her mind she is Jesus and I was not told about this of course tell a year or 2 later. Her mom believes in the Vietnamese Facebook group Buddha. This new age true religion believes that there was originally the heavens with Buddha and a digital reality of original Facebook , later Buddha created earth from some kind of implosion and the master race of Vietnamese was born but earth was still empty so the Vietnamese where reduced to there current form and there powers where formed into the other races of the world, me being white I had a direct line to the digital creator and my white power was being sucked from me while I stayed in this house to help my Vietnamese family. Also I'm gay because the pawn mower is a living creature captured in Vietnam then shipped her and can't operate for women or gay men , later I fixed it and I was no longer Vietnamese gay. But anns mom was aware I prefer trans. There are a lot of stories to this religion I learned in broken English that are all on a Facebook group page I created. But after planet fitness wasn't giving a raise I moved over to value village some call it savers. This was the most violent job I've ever had, not even close to Macy's and I had my hands completely tied. I was in donations, you wait in line to politely place items in a bin that are corporate approved or you can just go ahead and put that shit back in your car or we going to throw down. And so it went everyday was a full on fight with people cutting the line, trying to donate literal trash or jars of shit. Or just throwing it on the ground in front of the building next door starting its own fist fight. People really didn't want to go to the dump and most assume it goes to a good cause, absolutely not , it's a tax manipulation front that literally destroys everything on purpose with a trash compactor or my own hands giving me the nickname the destroyer and from the carry out guests muscles. At planet fitness it was LA, pest control speedy, at centercal 102 McDonald's I was worker 1, back booth, robot or that asshole. But I became quickly the defending donations leader and was on my way to a premonition standing against those evil doers. But all good things come to an end. Despite the reality of what happened, based solely on someones interpretation of an event on camera in another state in some cubicle I was fired for destruction of property. Every morning there was heaps of absolute trash in front of the building, this is illegal dumping , donations are for a business not a closed sidewalk near a business. This was the most violent fights with angry mustache men who punch you in the face and the gm is like you should have been nicer to him but still make him leave and fallow corporate policies he doesn't care about, he wants to dump his sawed in half couch or 300 gallons of moldy paint ECT. Alot of the time they would say this then change their mind let them dump their trash then get mad we accepted things not on the list. But I discovered plasma and this changed my life forever, if I sell my body to medical groups I can almost make minimum wage and I tried my ever best to please Ann with gifts that would normally result in rage and destroyed with me hiding behind the guest room door hoping the machete or screw driver didn't go through, but Ann also would attack her mom even threw her out a window and I'd step in and martial arts tell police arrived then it's all the sudden my fault I took a screw driver to the arm or her mom was beat with a door knob she had to have removed because of self harm issues. But I pay child support. But I was let go because a homeless man vomited up some kind of chemical that left streaks on the pavement and because they stole the pipes out of the walls we had no water so my mop bucket wasn't working for the daily clean up of piss, vomit and shit left by homeless digging through are dumped trash by people over night. That was a surprise to me , turns out I should have left that mans vomit for a camera to see from another state, have them call to have it cleaned by me at their convenience, not before open. I don't want my team walking through homeless human waste biohazards. This was outrageous but I well I'll get another job.

It had been a while since security so I tried securitos again and it was a different building and I need to make money to combat my ex wife just to have no money, and there he was that phillipino military loser again with the same story of this is what I get it I leave and I said fuck it , i took this 2 week class on how to be transit security all the whole saying I don't want to get transit security I just want a regular job. Then I got the job , my request was I get the sites near my house and not over night and you know what I got over nights , 12 hour shifts , no bathroom and way out in down Town Seattle, if I didn't pay child support and I could live alone maybe I could have done it, but no bathroom meant to water for 12 hours and they hawker you on camera all night , couldn't even lean without them yelling in your ear all while at home Vietnamese Facebook group Buddha says I can't sleep during the day so no sleep and rage Ann of course was way too much to deal with with no sleep so I did not last long I gave them a 1 week warning that if I don't get a better site I'm not coming in and after 1 week I walked off my site and never came back. I started agency security shortly after maybe 2 or 3 days. I told them in town, not at night and no driving gigs. I got my request, 12 hours outside a Chinese casino in the rain with no umbrella allowed, but later I fought for 1 and got to be almost dry most days. But it was crazy how many of them where there all day all night gambling and how the outfit of the dealer would effect there luck, I had a good talk with the white owner who opened it just to get Chinese money he said, it's too easy , just post pictures of the dealers online of there outfits and they will come from all over to get that "luck" . But I got to be near a river and trees everyday and walked 25 miles in a circle around 2 parking lots. Then a new gm took over and we lost that contract and I went to out of town over nights at palsbro RV. This was insane it's so cold and we are just outside , I would hide in the RVs to warm up , I even got stuck in one and Ann had to get me out, because she would go with me to work to make sure I wasn't cheating. I collected free food from the trash as well as all kinds of cool camping stuff. Then even this was taken and this gm thinks I'm doing all 3 of my no's, over night, out of town , driving in a circle. Now security is worthless garbage, but driving security is beyond worthless, your on a site just long enough to take a photo as proof your there, then you go to another site, it's contract splitting and gets max profits for least officer, I get it but it's trash. I don't want to be apart of the mega morbidly obese task force on wheels. So I put in my 2 weeks and found TJ Maxx the cult in disguise. I was like omg a cleaning job yes! And was definitely not wanting to stay home babysitting a violent girlfriend while her mom was at work doing nails all day, if she was alone she was ok? No idea. But I did ask about me doing nails with her but never happened. So I started cleaning floors again, I'm actually good at this , best bathroom in McDonald's and a planet fitness champion and did my share at save u more. I ran my auto scrubber as much as my battery would let me and those bathrooms where immaculate. I was having a great time and some of the girls who worked there where nice to me. Only 4 I would think to go home with but 2 where married and 2 where a little to young. But my Philippines love was there also , like just a philippna's not like anyone in particular. So I was also out helping crew and customers forgetting this is now we lose are cleaning job. They realized I can lift, move and do things better than most and I had become back room coordinator In no time, now this TJ Maxx has the corporate cult brainwashing videos and mantras that make you cringe. But we didn't have a stable gm for a while and we where all free thinkers who where unburdened by this madness. Now Ann was not happy my new job was only women and of course I'm cheating , it got the point we couldn't go to the grocery store together because if there was a female in the store I'm getting beat for cheating . I spent weeks at a time hiding in the guest room using my weight to hold shut the door from violent unprovoked outbursts in the middle of the night. I didn't need a bleeding nose messing up the fun pillow cases I bought her to match her room decor or the customer made backpack with hand created keychains , or the ps5 , 2 switches and Xbox 1 I got her for Christmas she attempted to destroy because I got to plasma and had been saving all year for her Christmas gift. I pay child support so I just figured this was the rest of my years . But TJ Maxx got new managers who believe in the one truth that TJ Maxx is supreme, is ultimate, Tj Maxx controls the systems, they alone keep you safe and protect the world. It got weird very fast then it happened. Just before leaving my grandma died and we had a funeral and it was the end of an amazing person In my life.
